Washington—President Harding is trying to work out a compromise between the various sugar producing interests of the United States and Cuba whereby the price of sugar to the consumer shall never again go to the heights that were reached during the war.

The president is constantly discussing the problem with Secretary Hoover, Senator Smoot and Agricultural senators on the one hand and the representatives of Cuban producers on the other.

The big question underlying the whole thing is whether the slight increase in the cost of sugar to the consumer which the producers say is inevitable if their industry is to be preserved will cause any dissension as to the policy to be followed.

The danger of this year's crop is the vivid recollection of the inordinate prices after the war when the government intervened and caused regulation. The administration knows that few things come closer home than the price of sugar and it is therefore anxious to work out a compromise that will satisfy the sugar producers and the farmers and will not rouse the ire of the public as a whole.

Henry Ford's Offer
for Muscle Shoals
Is Sent to Congress

By ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington—Henry Ford's proposal for the government projects at Muscle Shoals, Ala., was submitted Thursday to congress by Secretary Weeks. The offer is a congress may deem appropriate.

The only suggestions contained in the letter of transmission related to specific clauses in the contract and the desirability of amendments which would, in the event the proposal be accepted by congress, further safeguard the government's interests.

The event Mr. Ford's proposal is accepted, Secretary Weeks declared, "the government must make new appropriations amounting to $40,000,000 to $50,000,000 of which Mr. Ford will have the benefit for approximately 100 years at 4 percent."

In the event the offer is rejected, the secretary gave it as his opinion that dam number 2 (Wilson Dam) should be completed by the government and that the power requirements for commercial purposes, the benefits to navigation as well as the possible needs of the government would warrant this expenditure.

"Building the Dams," "If this is done," he continues, "the government may itself undertake, to sell the product to the best advantage. In such case, the amount of the government's present investment would be very materially reduced, because dam number 2, costing from $18,000,000 to $25,000,000 would not be built, and it would not be necessary to make the full installation of power at the Wilson Dam until the market required such installation."

This partial installation, the secretary explains, "would effect a saving of present investment of at least the sum of $20,000,000, leaving, according to the cost of engineers' estimate, not to exceed $25,000,000 to be invested by the government at this time instead of $45,000,000 to $50,000,000."

The question of unemployment is recognized as a factor to be considered by congress in connection with its treatment of the Muscle Shoals project.

Employing Labor

At this time, the secretary points out, "when there is a large amount of unemployment, it is not without importance to consider the

BIG BLIZZARD IS BILLED FOR CITYNorthwest Being Swept by Worst Storm in Years—
Mead Predicts Snow.

Will the prognostications of L. C. Mead, Janesville weather prophet, prove true?

The Gazette on Nov. 25 published his statement in which he predicted a terrible blizzard, Feb. 2-5, that will block railways as far south as Oklahoma. He predicted a mild winter at that time.

Mr. Mead's menu for February was: "From the 2nd to the 4th, light rain. From the 5th to the 7th, a severe blizzard will sweep with mountains of snow in many parts of the western country."

Reports from the weather bureau at Milwaukee are "the first real snow storm of the year, reaching blizzard proportions in the northwest sections of the lake region is promised Thursday, Feb. 2."

The Northwest is being swept by the worst storm in years, North Dakota and western Minnesota suffering the worst.

Janesville received the first indication of the blizzard which threatened to engulf this section of the state in a blanket of snow, Thursday morning when snow flurries, driving rain which, in other sections, fell during the morning and afternoon. Wednesday was one of the warmest days of the winter, with the temperature averaging 42 and driving rain which, in other sections, fell during the morning and afternoon.

The thermometer at 1 p. m. showed the mercury had climbed from 13 at 8 a. m. to 25.

No Snow Visible

Thursday being "ground hog day," persons who hunk on the old theory agree that winter will soon pass, for the sun failed to put in an appearance throughout the greater part of the day. A ground hog would have had a hard time finding his shadow.

POSTAL OFFICIAL DIES FROM INJURYE. H. Shaughnessy, Former Badger, Added to Theater
Death List.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington—Edward H. Shaughnessy of Chicago, second assistant postmaster general, died here early Thursday at Walter Reed hospital from injuries received in the Knickerbocker theater disaster Saturday night.

Although Mr. Shaughnessy's injuries were known to be of a critical nature, his condition had shown improvement up to Wednesday and his death was unexpected. Following a sudden heart collapse shortly after midnight. This was preceded, they said, by development of internal complications late Wednesday. Mr. Shaughnessy suffered a broken pelvis and other injuries, 10-year old daughter, Ruth, both of whom are recovering. From injuries received in the theater disaster, had not been informed of his death Thursday.

The death of the second assistant postmaster general brings to a fatal list of the disaster as now recorded by the police, up to 28.

ATTENDED SCHOOL IN BOYHOOD

GREEN BAY IN BOYHOOD

Chicago—Edward H. Shaughnessy, second assistant postmaster general, who died in Washington from injuries received in the Knickerbocker theater disaster, was born in Chicago in 1882. With his parents, he moved to Green Bay, Wis., when a boy and attended school there. He returned to Chicago when about 14 years old and a year later he was made ticket agent at Egin, Ill., for the Chicago and Northwestern railroad. When the United States entered the World war, he had worked up to the position of superintendent of the road, and went overseas with that regiment. In France, he studied the French language and then prepared a book of rules adapting American railroad rules to French methods.

Active in France

He served as superintendent of transportation at Chateau Thierry and later during the St. Mihiel drive was general superintendent of transportation at Is-sur-Tille. During the Argonne offensive he was general manager of transportation of the zone of the advance and had been promoted to the rank of colonel.

He was appointed second assistant postmaster general by Will Hays to improve facilities for rapid handling of the mails and to work with the railroads to bring about better conditions along this line.

JANESVILLE GIVEN
ENTHUSIASTIC HAND
AT MADISON MEETBOWER CITY BOWLERS
TAKE DRIVES AT TOURNAMENT.SEE 1923 MEET
Prospects Bright for Next Year; Band Leads Delegation Parade.

(By Staff Correspondent)

Madison—Janesville in 1922 was the slogan heard on all sides here Thursday as the Janesville pin knights took the drives in the state bowling tournament. The Bower City bowlers failed to break into the ranks of the leaders Thursday morning in doubles and singles, but this did not dim the enthusiasm of the visiting delegation, which is set on entering next year's meet.

Parade With Band

Early bowlers were on hand for the first shift, which opened at 10 a. m., but the bulk of the Janesville outfit arrived on the special train and paraded around Capitol square, led by the Legion drum corps and the Bower City band, to the cheers of Madison businessmen who lined up along the route in front of their places of business to greet the delegation. After the morning bowling, the Janesville men lunched at the New Park hotel, where the Bower City band gave a concert, during the noon hour in the dining room.

Janesville Popular

Madison folks appear to be solidly behind Janesville in the campaign for the 1923 session. Not only were the Janesville men given an enthusiastic reception here, but several leaders in the state association declared themselves confident that Janesville was giving the decision in the Monday meeting of the executive committee, when next year's tournament city will be decided. It is being urged that Janesville win a delegation here next day to lobby for the meet. Green Bay is working hard to land the big event.

Roll into Money

Dickerson and Redmond collected in the 21th district on Wednesday morning with 1,120. Cook and Newman rank 35th with a 1,062 score. "Singles," Janesville "could do no better than 15th place Thursday morning. Hubert, sliding into the hole with 534. The alley was in excellent shape. It is "Janesville day" aplenty, with the boys working at 3, 4, 5, 8 and 10 p. m. in the five main bowling halls. A few Janesville stars will roll their doubles and singles Friday morning.

MRS. STEPHENS TELLS
WHY SHE MARRIES
RUSSIAN LABORER

By ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Chicago—Mrs. Marion B. Stephens, heiress to the $40,000,000 estate of her father, the late Norman B. Reding, was spending in New York Thursday, to prepare for her marriage Saturday to Anastase Andreovich Vonsiaskoy-Vonsiasky, a Russian working man employed in the Baldwin Locomotive works.

Arriving in Chicago hurriedly she transferred pressing business, reiterated her determination to live according to the means of her husband-to-be, in his humble cottage and expressed her views on marriage.

"Happiness," she said, "is not a question of money. Money may be one way or another. We shall live very simply, in accordance with my husband's position, although we are not going to live in precisely the kind of a working man's cottage described as typical. I expect to be very happy."

The man I am to marry is older than his years. The experience he has gone through has developed him beyond his years. His life has been tragic. His father was a chief of the gendarmie at Warsaw and was killed by revolutionaries in 1910. He does not know what happened to his mother and his family. He fled to Constantinople and, when discharged from the army, came to Paris, where I met him."

Mrs. Stephens confirmed statements that Vonsiaskoy-Vonsiasky is heir to vast estates in southern Russia, which were confiscated by the bolsheviks, and is from one of the oldest and wealthiest families of the old regime.

Other words, Mr. Ford proposes to pay approximately $40,000,000 at the end of the lease period, provided the government has been able to invest his payment at four percent per annum. (2) Mr. Ford proposes to pay $10,000,000 a year for the upkeep of dam number 2 and its locks, and the sum of $20,000 a year for the upkeep of dam number 3 and its locks. These payments are expected to meet the ordinary upkeep expense with which the government is charged. Mr. Ford assumes the responsibility for upkeep and repair of the power purposes and equipment so that ultimately such equipment is expected to be turned back to the government in approximately as good condition as when received. (3) The proposal requires Mr. Ford's company to operate nitrate plant number 2 to its approximate capacity, which is estimated to be a production of 110,000 tons of ammonium nitrate per annum; and to sell such material at a price not to return a net profit in excess of 8 percent of the actual annual cost of production. (4) Mr. Ford's company is to maintain nitrate plant number 1 in the present state of its equipment, and to operate it for the production of explosives, and is to turn it over to the government, together with such other property as may be required for the national defense. (5) The government will be saved the expense of maintaining and operating the present imperfect facilities for navigation at Muscle Shoals, amounting to from $65,000 to $85,000 per annum. Attention is also directed to the cost of the nitrate plants for which Mr. Ford offers $5,000,000.

Offer Small Amount.
Mr. Ford is offering but $5,000,000 for the title to the two nitrate plants, the Muscle Shoals, the Gorgas-Warrior steam plant, transmission lines and appurtenances, says Secretary Weeks, adding that so "you may better understand the value of the property, I am attaching to this letter a brief statement prepared by the chief of ordnance showing the cost and estimated salvage value of these properties. From the table contained in this statement, it will be seen that these properties cost the United States approximately $85,000,000 and that as scrap, they are estimated to be worth $5,512,000."

Can Sell Outright.
The statement further shows that the chief of ordnance believes the war department can dispose of the property for $16,272,000. "Mr. Ford is bound by his proposal to operate plant number 2, but," the letter continues, "there is no legal obstacle to prevent his disposing of the other properties to which he gets title. Should he be able to obtain what the chief of ordnance estimates that the government can secure for the various items, namely $3,000,000 for the Warrior plants, which have an installation of 40,000 horse power, and $600,000 for nitrate plant number 1, dispose of the Warrior-Muscle Shoals transmission line, as a transmission line and not as scrap, for $275,000, and should he obtain $35,000 for the Muscle Shoals, he would have left the nitrate plant number 2, with its $9,000 horse power steam plant at a cost to him of less than $400,000. The interest on the proceeds of such possible sales would amount to a very large sum during the terms of the proposed contract."

Advantages Offered.
The letter says the present revenue from the rental of power plant number 2, is a minimum of $120,000 a year, with a possibility that, in the event of operation, it may run to $200,000. The cost of maintenance for the fiscal year 1931 is given at $200,000. A statement by Major General Williams, chief of ordnance, summarizing the Ford offer from the standpoint of his department, says it has "the very important advantages of materially assisting in the development of nitrogen preparedness and has the disadvantage of conflicting with contractual obligations with the American Cyanamid company and the Alabama Power company and of making a net return to the government of less than $500,000 for properties which have an estimated salvage value of some $16,000,000."

The Beautiful Stranger

It is related that Bancroft, the historian had a beautiful garden, most tenderly cultivated. One day a new rose appeared in one corner—a flower of mystery—since its origin could not be discovered. Thus was born the American Beauty rose. It ought to be the national flower.

Flowers of Fashion, redolent of spring skies and gentle zephyrs, are blossoming now in every part of the merchandise garden. But these beautiful strangers—so soon to become intimate companions—unlike Bancroft's rose, are uniformly of distinguished pedigree and as proud of their high-born position in the world of style as is a debutante of her first pearls.

Why not take a daily walk in the garden?

"I SEE BY THE GAZETTE"

THURSDAY, FEB. 2.

Evening.—Mr. W. O. W. hard times party.
Friday, Feb. 3.
Afternoon and Evening.—Community pictures at Baptist church.

LODGE NEWS.
Janesville Commandery No. 2 will meet in special convocation at Masonic Temple Friday night. Work in the Knights Templar degree.

Rock River encampment No. 2, I. O. O. F., will meet in regular session at 7:30 Friday night at East Side Odd Fellows hall.

The Art League will be held at 2:30 Friday afternoon in Library hall.

To Have Circle.—Mrs. Thomas Snodgrass will entertain Circle 7 of the Methodist church at her home, 1108 Racine street, at 2:30 p. m. Friday. Mrs. M. T. Lovell is chairman of this circle.

From Friday Night.—Final plans have been made for the semi-annual prom, to be given in Apollo hall Friday night, in honor of the class which graduated last night. Harry Keltz, Harry Schindler and Dan Lloyd are on the committee. Oscar Keltz's orchestra will play.

Surprise Mr. Beck.—A birthday surprise dinner was given Wednesday night in honor of the birthday of J. M. Beck, cashier of the Rock County National bank. It took place at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Beck, 429 South Main street. The dinner was served at 5:30 p. m. by Mrs. F. P. Snodgrass, Miss Florence Smiley, Miss Dolle Strang, Mrs. Rose Forbach, Mrs. L. H. Case. Those from out-of-town present were James Taylor and Dan Lloyd, Orono; A. C. Gardner, Frank Lowry and W. O. Howell, Footville; while others present were Harry S. Haggart, W. E. Hoyer, F. P. Smiley, Oscar Nelson, G. M. Schindler and John Gray, Jr. Oscar Nelson acted as toastmaster, and the time after the dinner was spent with short toasts and speeches of reminiscence by Mr. Beck's boyhood playmates and business associates. He was presented with a gift.

Social Friday Night.—A meeting of the Service Star Legion will be held in Eagles hall at 7:30 Friday night. A short business meeting will be followed by a social evening, and all members are asked to bring either their gentlemen friends or their husbands. Women are asked to bring sandwiches.

To Meet Tonight.—The Young People's society of the First Lutheran church will meet in the church parlors at 8 p. m. Thursday. A program has been arranged, and a lunch will be served by Misses Amanda Olson and Anna Dackins.

Triple Birthday Party.—Mrs. Charles Schmidt, 883 Western avenue, was given a surprise on her birthday Tuesday afternoon by a large number of friends and neighbors. It was also given in honor of the birthday of her two grandchildren, Donald Schmidt and Dorothy Benwitz, who were both one year old on that date. The afternoon was spent with games at which Mrs. Paul Benwitz, Charles Hill and Mrs. Charles Rauch were the prize winners. Mrs. Schmidt and her grandchildren were presented with a number of gifts. Supper was served at six o'clock.

Dance Wednesday Night.—Another of the series of Rex dances was held Wednesday night in East Side Odd Fellows hall. It had been planned to give out favors, but this will be done at the next dance, in two weeks. A good crowd attended.

Program on Drama.—An interesting program on drama was given at a meeting of the Athena Class Wednesday afternoon at Library hall, in charge of Mrs. H. H. Faust. Miss Emily Moser gave a description of Zena Gale's play "Miss Lulu Belt," which she saw in Chicago, and Mrs. Faust gave a resume of some of the newest Chicago plays. A discussion of the movement for "Little Theaters" was given by Mrs. F. J. Lowth, who described some of the most notable examples, especially those connected with colleges. Mrs. W. W. Woolf gave a brief outline of the portmanteau type of theaters, together with a sketch of the life of Stewart Walker, who has written a number of one-act plays for production in these little theaters. The club voted to enter dramatic art by putting on a short play the latter part of the season.

Second Dance Friday.—A Moose dance will be given Friday night in the Moose hall. It is the second of the 1922 series. A four-piece orchestra will furnish the music.

Announce Engagement.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Groszky, 225 North Chatham street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Hazel Lydia, to E. Hector Biesdale, son of J. R. Biesdale, Footville road. Both are well-known in the city. Mr. Biesdale is a world war veteran, and received several medals for heroic action. The date for the wedding has not been set.

Meets at Library.—A regular meeting of the library will be held Thursday morning.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lustig, Jr., Garfield avenue, Thursday morning.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith and Miss Laura Dodge, Albany, spent Tuesday at the James Slinger home, 223 North Pearl street. Mrs. Fred Nicholson, Mineral Point, and Mrs. E. R. Doyle, Brownstown, were also guests there the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fredendall announce the birth of a son, Feb. 1, at Mercy hospital. Mrs. Fredendall was Miss Florence Drafa.

Miss Margaret Barla and Lillian Dulin spent Wednesday in Chicago.

Mrs. Seymour Johnson, Whitewater, was the guest this week of different friends in the city.

Mrs. John Higgins, School street, is confined to her home with illness.

P. R. Peterson and son, Howard Peterson, 225 Monroe street, left for Columbus, Ohio, on a business trip Thursday.

Mrs. Frank Thom and son, William, and Mrs. George Hackbart, of the Town of Janesville, spent Wednesday with Mrs. Louis Blom, Ash, Town of Center.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl M. Vost, 1223 Racine street, are home from a few days' visit in Orono. They went to attend the funeral of a relative.

Miss Caroline Richardson, St. Lawrence avenue, left Thursday for Timmons, Ont., where she will visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. Richard Skavien. Her father, V. P. Richardson, accompanied her as far as Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Utz, Muguho, were recent visitors at the home of Mrs. W. Barry, 405 Cherry street.

Miss Edna and Lucile Kronitz, South Main street, were week-end visitors in Chicago. They went to attend the Fritz Krieger concert.

Mrs. Raymond Fitzgerald, Center street, and her sister, Mrs. L. D. D.

YOU TELL 'EM

Reporters ask a daily question of five persons. Here's what they say:

TODAY'S QUESTION:

Do you believe that the ground has theory of forecasting weather conditions is true?

Mrs. Charles Wein, 102 North Washington street.—"Yes, I believe there is something to it. I remember about 17 years ago, when we were living in the country, the woodchuck came out and went back in and we had pretty cold weather after that."

C. W. Toll, 422 North Chatham street.—"No, Mr. I don't believe there is anything to it. I have heard of it all my life, but don't believe in it."

A. L. Hunt, 112 South Main street.—"Why pick on me for that question? But I don't believe in it. I believe weather conditions are uncertain and cannot be forecasted by anyone. Let alone a woodchuck."

Mrs. Fred Himes, 104 Lima street.—"No, I don't believe in it. While I don't know very much about animals, I do believe some of the wild animals are wiser about weather than we sometimes give them credit for being. However, I don't believe in the groundhog day theory."

Mrs. E. Kunt, farm, route three.—"Why, sure I believe in it—don't you? Everybody does and so do I."

James, Kansas City, who has been her guest, left Wednesday for South Bend, Ind., where they will visit their parents for two weeks.

Miss Anna Mohr has returned from Duellington and Mrs. Ruth Kumble from Fort Atkinson, where they spent the first of the week. They are teachers at the Jefferson school.

UP TO CHURCHES TO SAVE WORLD

Spiritual Rejuvenation Urged by A. E. F. Chaplain at Episcopal Meeting.

Need of a spiritual rejuvenation to avoid an overthrow of civilization such as took place in the Roman empire, was expressed in eloquent addresses by Rev. Stanley M. Cleveland, student chaplain at the Episcopal church at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, at the annual dinner meeting of Trinity Episcopal church at the parish house, Wednesday night.

"This generation in college life is the most important age in the history of the world," said Rev. Mr. Cleveland. "They will be called upon to solve problems which will be greater historically than any other age. This world is in a good bit of a mess but it is not the first time, and because of the same reason, human greed, selfishness, and self-centeredness. The work at the university is to open the eyes of at least a few that the world does rest on their shoulders not only in the comic papers but in fact."

Was With A. E. F.
Rev. Mr. Cleveland of Princeton, N. J., was appointed student chaplain in May, 1921. He was chaplain of the 20th regiment, 7th division, during the war, spent one year at the front in France and participated in some of the most notable engagements. St. Francis clubhouse, occupies a half block across from Lathrop hall and is for Episcopal students attending the university.

Telling of the purposes of the nationwide campaign conducted by the Episcopal church, emphasizing it as a missionary movement to reawaken interest in the church, Archdeacon William Dawson, Madison, said that the center of the work is in the parish.

Rev. Mr. Dawson told of the plan for group work which will ultimately be established in the Episcopal churches.

"The secret of this growth of Mormonism in the west has been the contact of the church leaders with the people whom they visit at least once a month," he said. "It is this same group work, this personal contact that has allowed Tammany hall to carry on its wicked work. If this is possible, why can't it be the same in the church work? Have the church organized and proceed like an army?"

$300 For Willmann
Reports by the treasurer, George Richards, the Woman's guild, the rector, Rev. Henry Willmann and the choir leader, James Gregory, showed the church to have passed a prosperous year. The Sunday school is in the best condition in history, with 93 pupils and eight teachers.

Robert M. Bostwick was unanimously re-elected senior warden for two years, and Harry Garbutt and Frank Parker, vestrymen for three years.

Supper was served to 150 by a committee of the Women's guild of the church.

An appropriation of $300 a year for the upkeep of his car was granted Rev. Mr. Willmann by the congregation on motion of John W. Dady.

A Better Day Than Yesterday

Each day should be a better day than yesterday—better health, better work, better play.

Whether it is a better day or not depends largely on whether the mind is fettered by food follies or brightened and vivified by a breakfast that is warm, satisfying and nourishing. Start the day right by eating the food that puts warmth and peppy vim into the body on the coldest days. Shredded Wheat is rich in heat-making, tissue-building elements and it is ready-cooked and easily digested. A breakfast of Shredded Wheat with hot milk lays the foundation for a successful day. It is a boon to busy housewives and solves the breakfast problem in winter.

Shredded Wheat With HOT Milk

Heat the Biscuits in the oven to restore their crispness; pour hot milk over them, adding a little cream and a little salt. Better for children than mushy porridges—ready-cooked and ready-to-serve.

Captures America by storm

Tease your taste. Think of the finest ice cream you have ever eaten. Then, in thought, cover that with crispy, luscious milk-chocolate. Eskimo Pie makes a wonderful combination of these two finest of delicacies. Fresh from the best ice cream factories they come wrapped in sanitary tin-foil. Sold by the millions daily—at regular ice cream shops. Made under patents by the licensees of the Russell Stover Company, Malters Building, Chicago.

THE GAZETTE'S PLATFORM

Auto tourist camp large enough and attractive enough to care for the thousands who will visit Wisconsin during the summer of 1922.

Send every energy to finish the high school building so it may be used before the end of the year. With the completion, the problem of a community center will be solved.

Janesville needs and should have ample hotel facilities to care for the thousands who will visit the city during the summer of 1922.

Plan the paving of the city streets as soon as there can be the necessary requirements in taxation so as not to place a heavy burden on the people.

Give the city management in municipal affairs. Establish the city managerial system of government as economical and efficient.
Give the city a park. There is no available $10,000 for this purpose and it should not be used for any other. Finish the city and county auditor's office.

Memorial building for World War soldiers,
the living and the dead—to be also an historical building.

IS NOTHING EVER TO BE DONE?

Christiana Brickson was murdered on Asmission day on the doorstep of her own home. Is the death of a person here at the very edge of the city forever to go unpunished or is the murderer to be free? What effort is being made to find the slayer of Christiana Brickson?

With the British getting out there will soon be only Irish in Ireland—and American tourists.

IT IS A GREAT DAY IN HISTORY

Immediately the effect of the limitation of arms
conference will be felt because the threat of war and troubles on the Pacific have come to an end
with the final acceptance of the naval limitations treaty and the settlement of the Shantung question. Not all will agree that everything is as it should be and we may expect the regular list of objectors to arise and shout anathema to all the work of the arms conference. The treaty must run the gamut of the senate. Five of the great powers of the world have agreed to a naval holiday for 15 years, have agreed to scrap many ships, have agreed to limit the use of submarines and poison gas in warfare and have arrived at other conclusions in regard to the methods of warfare that were at the beginning of the conference thought to be hopeless. Guided by the masterly diplomatic hand of Secretary Charles Evans Hughes and backed by the executive force and influence of the government, the credit for the final happy result must redound to President Harding and his chief cabinet leader.

The world is moving toward more happy circumstances and better understanding. True, all the things in the agenda have not yet been accomplished, but that was a program so broad and so far reaching that most of the world thought it to be Utopian and impossible. Yap and Shantung settlements, the evacuation of Siberia, the open door in China, the naval holiday and limitation of gas and submarines in warfare are far towards eventual disarmament and a new program of world relations. Under the Versailles treaty Shantung was given to Japan "to hold in her hand" a while. It was recorded as a crime against our friend—a crime in which we were a participant. If the Shantung question alone were settled the conference may well be called a success.

TAKE PRECAUTIONS AGAINST FLU

There are many cases of flu in the United States. The east is the worst sufferer so far. It is a well established fact that with a lessening degree epidemics like the flu recur for a number of years after the first disastrous appearance. There is one thing to do and that is to take every precaution against it. One may not fool with this scourge.

THE SYNTHETIC GOLD MIRAGE

Germany swallowed the story of the ex-convict that he had discovered a way to make gold, hook, line and sinker. The president of the Reichsbank was given a piece of the metal and found it to be 99 per cent pure. Then the scientists got busy. It was said that during the war gold was made from sea water but it could not be made to pay. Then after the whole German people had become excited, Prof. Irving Fisher, of Yale, went to Germany to investigate. It took but a short time to discover that the whole scheme was a fraud and the man who had carried the lump of gold to the bank was a jail bird in good clothes. No one saw the gold made, no one investigated the apparatus if there had been any,
no one seems to have attempted to find out about it at all except to swallow the story and figure out how long it would be before Germany was the financial dominator of the world if it could make gold.

Time and again we have had these stories of gold making. If it were possible to make gold, that metal as a basis of monetary value would disappear. A new basis would have to be sought or no basis at all might come into existence. If we based values on gold and gold could be made as easily and as cheaply as we produce steel or bronze or brass, all commodities would go sky
high. It would be in the same class as paper money. But as all of the schemes for making gold out of the circumambient air have proved to be frauds,
we may still go on with a gold basis undisturbed.

Truth comes from Kansas when the Atchison
Mail says that only a damned fool is always right.

HUGO STINNES

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

New York—An exasperating feature of Germany's inability to pay its war debts, at least in the eyes of its victorious neighbors, is the present enormous prosperity of one German—Hugo Stinnes. The old Germany of Hohenzollerns crushed and beaten and bankrupt, but the new Germany, which is largely under the control of Stinnes, is quite lively and vigorous, and by no means poverty-stricken. Yet it cannot be attached by its creditors, because, while the idea has been suggested, the Allies do not feel at liberty to attach the property of a private individual.

Just how much of Germany Stinnes owns is not precisely known. Some say he owns practically all of it. Others assert that his wealth and power have been greatly overestimated. One heavy all sorts of strange and fantastic rumors concerning him. There are those who insist that he plans for the reinstatement of the Hohenzollerns with himself in the position of premier, while others declare that he is working for the complete socialization of the German state. Some see in him the most stabilizing factor in the new relations of Europe, and others point to him as "the new shadow" on the world. At any rate, whatever may be his secret aims, he is unquestionably the most picturesque and disturbing personality in Europe today.

In the first place Europe is not accustomed to billion-dollar capitalists as we are here in America. The second place, Stinnes has not limited his activities to one industrial line, but is engaged in a wide variety of enterprises, including mining, coal, textile, ocean and river shipping, electric power plants, gas plants, export and import, lumber mills, iron and steel foundries, hotels, tourist travel, the development of health resorts and the publication of newspapers. He is said to own a chain of 50 newspapers, scattered throughout Germany and neighboring countries.

Indeed, there is no important industrial company in Germany, to all accounts, with which Hugo Stinnes is not connected. To keep the concerns in which he is interested going he can use his own coal, his own steel, his own timber. He is gradually accumulating a mercantile fleet which,
it is predicted, will be twice the size of the pre-
war fleet of the Hamburg-American line, and
"which will be entirely outside the control of the Allies." He is reported to "have an agent or a staff of agents, in every important foreign port,
in Germany, to all accounts, with which Hugo Stinnes is not connected. To keep the concerns in which he is interested going he can use
his own coal, his own steel, his own timber. He is gradually accumulating a mercantile fleet which,
it is predicted, will be twice the size of the pre-
war fleet of the Hamburg-American line, and
"which will be entirely outside the control of the Allies." He is reported to "have an agent or a staff of agents, in every important foreign port,

It is no wonder, then, that he captured the imagination of Europe, and that even the German people marvel at his energy and ability—especially since the man was scarcely known before the war. The grandfather, Matthias Stinnes, according to Dr. Brickmeyer, settled in Muelheim on the Rhine in 1808, where he soon became known for his courage, strong will and business sagacity. He invested his small capital in coal barges and gradually built up an important coal-carrying line between Cologne and Holland. After a time, he established his own ship-building plant and began constructing his own barges, so that by 1820 the number of craft owned by the Stinnes firm had increased to 108.

Twenty years later, however, when the practicability of the steamship had been established, Matthias Stinnes decided to scrap his slow, horsepowered barges in favor of steam power. This substitution was bitterly opposed by the Rhine landowners, who had been furnishing the horses for towing the barges and disliked to see a good source of profit swept away. Stinnes was informed that upon the appearance of the first steamboat used to tow his barges, there would be trouble.

This warning proved to be accurate. When the first steamboat arrived at a certain point near Neuenahr-on-the-Rhine, it was greeted with volleys of rifle shots from the bank. But to the discomfiture of the enemy, the steamboat swept laughingly on, scornful to notice such interference.
For Matthias Stinnes had taken the precaution to place his steersman in an invulnerable, armored turret. After that, the Rhine landers resigned themselves to the inevitable.

When Matthias Stinnes died in 1845 his business had expanded enormously and it concluded not only river shipping but mining and the marketing of coal. It had become so complicated and so varied, in fact, that one man could scarcely handle it, but Matthias II somehow managed to take care of it and keep it in the possession of the family, which included his three brothers and three sisters. Upon his death in 1853, he passed the responsibility on to Gustav, the oldest of the three brothers, and the father of the amazing Hugo Stinnes who now engages the attention of the world.

Hugo exhibited unusual talent for managing his share of the Stinnes possessions at an early age. Combining his education to commercial subjects, he entered the Stinnes firm when he was about 19, but soon felt the need for larger fields to conquer. Accordingly, two years later he established his own firm, laying the foundation for an independent career. Not until the outbreak of the war, however, did he find his real opportunity for complete self-expression.

The history of all his skillful manipulations
would make a pretty tale, but suffice it to say that he entered the war period only a moderately rich man and came out with billions. And since the armistice he has achieved even greater wealth and power.

In amusing contrast to his spectacular exploits
is the personal appearance of the man himself, who is described by Dr. Brickmeyer, his biographer, as resembling nothing so much as "a wandering lump of coal."
"He has a compact body," writes Brickmeyer,
"upon which is set a big head. His hair is closecropped, black; his face large and pale, his eyes
black as coal; his nose bent, his eyes deep-set.
An Assisian King—that is what a German pope recently dubbed him."

"His manner is absolutely without pose—straightforward, heavy, firm. He walks with a slight stoop, shuffling along like a sea-farer. His clothes and habits are simple."
Follett, noblest of all, must be returned to the senate to continue his fight for Americanism in foreign relations and honesty in domestic affairs.
This recommendation of Veitick's should be put on all the billboards.

London physicians have made themselves solid with the small boy and perhaps the older ones also. They say we must not get out of bed in too big a hurry in the morning. There are, some people who have religiously obeyed this injunction all their lives. Most of us in fact.

One bottle of booze thrown in the stove blew up a Michigan home. And then some people want free home brew!

Along with the New York World, the hotel-keepers of Genoa are angry because we are not going to be at the conference there.

THE GOLFER'S HOPE

I haven't done much with the wood.
My putter is faulty, but I have
For years I have hoped to be good.
The ways of the skillful I seek,
But always my golf I deplore.
It stays in its commonplace groove,
But the future I face as before.
Next summer I ought to improve.

I've thought it with each coming year,
I know all my faults to a T;
I know why my driving is queer
And there are things that I don't
I know how to put but I don't
I know that my head shouldn't move,
Henceforth and forever it won't—
Next summer I ought to improve.

My style, I am told, is O. K.
I've a finish superb to my drive.
There's no doubt I know how to play,
Yet I'm lucky to sink for a five.
On the one of the greens I have put
But I've all the instructions down pat
I've been always a dux—but, at that,
Next summer I ought to be good.

Now the links are deep hidden in snow
And my clubs in the corner remain,
But in fancy each evening I go
To play through the course once again.
And I mentally study my style
And go through the shots I can play—
Then I say, to myself with a smile:
Next summer, I'll show 'em the way.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

A LINGONNE FRANCOIS

I thank you for your thought sent through the night—
The shadow of a bird's wing on a star;
But oh beloved, come to me again
And heal me where my poor heart's bruises are.

That breath you do not feel upon your cheek
Is love I would breathe to you apart;
Those thoughts you seek and cannot seem to find—
Are thoughts of you I keep locked up in my heart.

FAILURES OF AN OPTIMIST

I am afraid of women who keep diaries.
I never can figure out my bank balance to agree with the bank's figures.
I never make any New Year's resolutions,
because I know I could not keep them anyway.
I never expect to realize my favorite ambition—to own a pair of suspenders with each pair of trousers.—A. Alexander Thomas.

They have never discovered perpetual motion, but a lot of people have discovered perpetual rest.

What is the proper height of a highbrow? We have seen some men with brows high they are sure to reach up and tip their hats
and yet they have not been remarkably clever.
One can hardly judge by the physical aspect of things that way. We know one man whose brow practically has no end. He is bald and his brow runs clean over the top of his neck, but he reads this column every day and says he enjoys
it, so he is a highbrow in appearance only. I know a highbrow writer in this town whose ears stick up beyond the top of his head, and he reads this column every day and says he enjoys
it, but nobody understands, so in his case,
too, appearances are deceiving.

Many a man doesn't get on his feet again until his creditors take his car.

Some society women are having the portraits of their husbands tattooed on their fair skins.
The ink is indelible, of course, and if somebody should dare to have their husbands portrayed as they happen the average society woman
will give the moving pictures a tight race.

Have you been shot by any bandits today?

Who's Who Today

ADOLPH LEWISOHN

Adolph Lewisoohn, who is appearing frequently in the current news, has done as much for mining development and material aid as any other man in the country. He is a native of Hamburg, Germany, and came to this country fifty years ago. He brought with him the knowledge and ledge of mines and mining,
and, in addition to being the head of Adolph Lewisoohn & Co., is president of the Tennessee Copper and Chemical Corporation, the American Gold and Platinum Co., and the Pacific Metals Corporation.

He gave the Columbia School of Mines $200,000 and is one of the chief supporters of the College of the City of New York. Aside from bank directorates and other positions which represent money, he is a philanthropist of the first order. He is president of the Hebrew Sheltering Guardian Society, and has done as much for the immigrant Jew who makes up such an important part of the population of New York as an infing man.

State Press Comment

Over in Rock county presides Judge George

his judicious and consistent efforts in settling litigations. The proportion given indicates that fifteen of every twenty suits at law that are treated, never get to trial, thus saving would-be litigants many costly hours of waiting. In cases in his way has resulted in saving the county and state a total of $25,000. This record is commended to the judges of other courts by Rock County newspapers.—Waukesha Freeman.

THE SCHOOL GYMNASIUM

"I would like your advice about my 15 year old daughter, who is an object of anxiety to me because of a family history of tuberculosis. She is 53 inches tall, weighs 115 pounds,
has good complexion, but is troubled with chronic post nasal sore throat. Her tonsils and adenoids
were removed several years ago.
She is very conscientious and has English functions. She sometimes catches colds each winter, when the chronic soreness becomes acute and spreads thru her chest, apparently. She walks a mile to school, but carries a heavy load of books. She stands next the head of her class in the academy and is too busy to spend much time outside, other than the walks to school. Music and reading are her recreations. Short of stopping school can you suggest anything for her?"

"MRS. C. O. C."
The school system is wrong. It deals with girls and boys as tho they were malleable, without any bodies attached. It neglects physical education, and strives to turn out top-heavy, self-sufficient young men and women who are ill-equipped to face the world.

The physical body demands a show. You can't leave it out of consideration and make a success of education. If the schools are unprepared to attend to the physical training of girls and boys, too often they are unprepared. It becomes the duty of parents to look after that vital part of education personally.

It is rather a mistake to think that a high school student to be a contender for scholastic honors, because it does just what the system is doing to the girl described in the letter.
It tends to make a little girl to her need of physical training, and it turns her mother's head so that the thing is rather encouraged.

If she were my daughter, she would drop about two subjects a month, and have a holiday a day
for regular gymnasium or other carefully supervised physical training. I should feel as much responsibility as a parent for the girl's future health and happiness as for her scholastic success.

Q. I see that a ship from Australia carries women, children, and Tasmanian devils. What are these?
E. C. D.

A. A wallaby is any of the various small and medium sized kangaroos. A wombat has a thick furry body, short legs and rudimentary tail, resembling in general form a small bear. The Tasmanian devil is a burrowing animal with coarse hair, a black head and neck, and larger than a badger. It is very voracious and sometimes destroys sheep.

Q. How many pounds pressure is there in an automobile cylinder when the engine is compressed ready for firing? D. H. C.

A. There are from 40 to 125 pounds of pressure in an automobile cylinder
when the charge is compressed ready for firing.

Q. What does Bar-le-Duc mean?

A. Bar-le-Duc means, in French, the duke's claud. Bar-le-Duc dates from the sixth century when it was the residence of the Dukes of Bar.
The town produces excellent wine and a variety of currant jam which bears its name.

Q. Who in the Bible refused to go to war without a prophetic? J. E.

A. Barak, son of Abinoam, refused to go to battle against Jabin's army
unless accompanied by the prophetess Deborah.

Q. What place was known as Dankside? F. P. G.

A. The south bank of the Thames river between Blackfriars and Waterloo bridges is known as Dank-side.
The famous Globe theater stood there in Shakespeare's time.

Q. Is it correct to say "per week"
and "per day"? J. W.

A. The use of this Latin proposition is not sanctioned in English. One should say "a week" and "a day."

Q. How long is the race course at Ascot Heath? J. W.

A. This famous English race course is about one and a half miles long.
It was laid out 29 miles from London, in 1711, by order of Queen Anne.

Q. What is the longest golf hole ever made in a single shot from the tee? H. H.

A. The seventeenth hole at Hazley,
On-Thames that was made in one by J. C. Ladd in the autumn of 1912.
The hole measured 355 yards and 25
inches and was played in 25 strokes.

Q. What is a "tommy shop"?
R. C. S.

A. In England, a "tommy" was the slang name for a soldier. The word was applied to all bread and provisions. A "tommy shop" was an expression.

Jammed Full Is High School With No Seats Available in Convocation Hall for Many

Eight hundred and thirty-nine pupils are in the Janesville high school securing an education under conditions which do not allow them the least bit of ease or comfort. At considerable strain on both the pupils and teachers. A great deal of the congestion which would naturally be expected in a school housing 2,500 pupils has been connected through use of a traffic system instituted last February. Pupils passing from the assembly room to class rooms are even the approaching the assembly room used as a study hall. With 100 new pupils in the building Wednesday morning, unaccustomed to the hustle and bustle of a new school, the pupils are crowded in. Through the co-operation of the pupils largely, the wheels of higher education in this city are allowed to turn. While the emergency measures were taken.

Numbers are Growing
The past two years have seen the enrollment rise from 800 to 840 and before the new high school building is completed at the date planned Feb. 1, 1923, there will be even more pupils than there are now. It is believed that the largest day for the increased number in the high school has been the placing of pupils of the 8A grade in the building, taking them out of the grade schools to ease the congestion there and to make room for the new pupils coming into lower grades.

One hundred pupils will be graduated from the high school in June, 1922, and about an equal number of pupils from the grades will enter the building according to estimates of Principal George Bassford and Supt. Frank O. Bassford. An increase will be met with the entrance of additional pupils from the rural districts. At the present time Janesville is giving 125 pupils whose parents are taxpayers in the city of Janesville high school education at $2. a week.

Objects to Double Sessions
"We could possibly refuse to take these pupils from the rural districts but this would not be deemed advisable," said Mr. Bassford. "Neither would I suggest postponing the time in taking the children from the grade schools into the building."
The suggestion of holding double sessions, having one half of the pupils come in the morning and the other half in the afternoon as suggested by Supt. Frank O. Bassford, met with objection by Principal Bassford. "The serious objection is that the children do not study as well at home as they do in the school," said Mr. Bassford, "and in running

Liquor Let-Up on Drug Stores Shown by Action

Milwaukee.—The unsealing of 25 Milwaukee drug stores yesterday and today indicated that the rigorous policy of James A. Stone, federal prohibition director, will not be continued. The liquor stocks placed under the government's hand as the result of inspections by Mr. Stone and his assistants were released following reinspection under Edward N. Reed, senior prohibition agent, and assistant director for Wisconsin, and after informal discussions between prohibition officials and druggists.

This week's unsealings disclosed the fact that 25 of these 250 drug stores stated under Mr. Stone's reinspection had been quietly unsealed since the coming of Mr. Reed a little more than a week ago. The remaining 25 was announced to be unsealed just as quietly as investigation of each case which warrants it.

More than half of the drug stores affected are in Milwaukee. Technical errors in complying with the regulations will no longer be a ground for sealing, officials said. said Supt. Hall. "The worst thing about these circumstances is that which the teachers have to work. That has a bad effect on the pupils, and possibly lowers the standard of scholarship. The condition in the grade schools of Janesville is no better than the high school. The admirable feature about the grade school situation is the splendid co-operation shown by the parents of the grades school children who have had just cause for complaint in their children being sent to schools outside of their district. This has been a very unfavorable due to the overcrowding. The only schools which are not packed to more than they should normally accommodate are the Grant and Webster schools. This condition will be remedied when the new high school is built, leaving nine vacant rooms in the grade schools through shifting of the seventh and eighth grade pupils to the new high school building."

Danger of Fire
Only in an unusual case where a fire gained headway before it was discovered, would there be cause for alarm for the safety of the pupils. According to Mr. Bassford all of the pupils have gotten out of the building in one and a half minutes. This was in using both stairways from the third and second floors to the first and the three on the main floor to the outside. Five fire drills were held during the past semester Mr. Bassford said. This emergency is within the requirements of the industrial commission. Mr. Bassford claims. The fire escapes have never been used in the drills. Approach to the new fire escape at the south end of the assembly hall, built last fall, is hampered by the closeness of the desks to the door, which run to the rear of the room to the alcove, in the side wall of which is the door to the fire escape.

Caus of Chemical
Six cans of chemical are placed in the halls in the building. On the third floor in the rear of the stage are five class rooms including the typewriting and domestic science. Entrance to these rooms is made by narrow steps from the gym floor to the stage and into the rear. Pupils have access to two stairways going to the second floor and two fire escapes, one at the rear which goes down past the assembly room windows and another off the gymnasium down into the back yard.
Bad for Scholarship
"While the condition in the Janesville school is bad, it is much better than some cities of the state including Racine and Kenosha."

Whitewater

Whitewater.—Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Patton have traded their home on Prairie street toward a new home three miles northwest of Whitewater. Mr. Patton and family will remain in Whitewater at least during the coming year. George Patton, who purchased the place on the corner of Janesville and Whitewater streets, formerly owned by Mrs. Mary White, and Mrs. George Patton, who was formerly in the Patton family, Thomas Patton, Crystal Falls, Mich., was here last week, visiting his mother, who has been ill. He returned to his home Sunday, taking his mother with him. Mr. and Mrs. Patton's new home is in Janesville. Mr. J. Thorne, Platteville, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Thorne. Mrs. J. Pierce, Janesville, spent Sunday with friends in Whitewater. Mr. and Mrs. George Patton entertained 14 friends at a dinner party Sunday. Miss Toia Hopper, Palmyra, was the guest of Mrs. Carrie Cook Sunday. A few friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Marshall helped them celebrate their sixteenth wedding anniversary Saturday night. Mrs. O. Rye passed away Tuesday at her home on Gault street. She had been ill for several months. Her husband survives her.

NORTH SPRING VALLEY
[By Gazette Correspondent.]
North Spring Valley.—Mrs. Eugene Clark is recovering from a serious attack of pneumonia. Mrs. Peter Taylor is recovering from a recent attack of pneumonia. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Palmer and Mrs. Marjorie Palmer were Janesville visitors Saturday. Clayton Dickey and Albert Gilbertson will go to Chicago this week to represent the local milk marketing company members at a meeting there. The tobacco growers will be cut here owing to unsatisfactory prices.

Hair Often Ruined
By Careless Washing

Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best, use Mulsified. Prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.
The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.
One or two teaspoonfuls of Mulsified will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff, and excess of oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.
You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor Gazette:

The Gazette of Dec. 10, 1921, there was an editorial with reference to the cutting of shade trees by wire-using companies which interested me. Such companies were butchering the shade trees in Janesville, and emphasized, as I recall, that climbers were used in going up the trees which left holes in the tree, causing rot and ultimately the tree might die.

For a considerable time back we have done a lot of educating of those working for this company that such work might be performed to the satisfaction of the tree owner and not damage a valuable shade tree.

Progress in the art has developed that for telephone wires very little tree trimming is necessary in cities, due largely to having cable which can go through trees if necessary and the branches will not affect the service to the public. Should the wire to the subscriber's house rub against the tree limbs, the covering on the wire in time is worn and the trouble with the working of the telephone results, so that it is occasionally necessary to trim small branches to keep this wire clear.

In no case is a limb of any tree ever cut without the owner's consent, and an effort is made to have the owner supervise the trimming. Our men are schooled in the proper method of trimming trees so as not to damage the tree, and in no case for a long period have we ever allowed any employee to use climbers in going up a tree. You have no doubt noticed the ladders on the telephone wires which we always carry and use for this and other purposes.

I have given you these facts as I want you to know that the Wisconsin Telephone company is not in the class of wire users who cut down trees. The work we have done in the past has led to many requests from people wishing us to do tree trimming for them, because they believe we will do a more satisfactory job for them than any one whom they know of in the city.

Ours is not a thought of butchering a tree, but rather safeguarding the beauty of trees and not cutting the trimming to what we want to do but to shape out the whole tree, that we can return any time in the future and get permission to do a little trimming, and we have very little difficulty in doing what we feel is necessary.

WM. CASH,
District Manager Wisconsin Telephone Co.
